DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1,2, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Tanase et al (US 2004/0124615), hereafter referred to as Tanase. Tanase discloses a side airbag comprising a main chamber 26 and an auxiliary chamber 25 connected to the top of said main chamber 26 by means of a connecting opening; wherein the auxiliary chamber 25 a vent hole 31 and a cover fabric 33 sewn so as to cover the vent hole 31 such that the fabric 33 opens the vent hole 31 when the pressure in the auxiliary chamber 25 exceeds a predetermined pressure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 3 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanase in view of Lachat et al (5,791,685) hereafter referred to as Lachat. Tanase discloses the present invention except for a second auxiliary chamber. Lachat teaches a side airbag comprising a main chamber 52, a first auxiliary chamber 50, and a second auxiliary chamber 54. Therefore it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify the side airbag of Tanase with the teaching of Lachat's second auxiliary chamber to cover more area and better protect an occupant from a collision.

5. Claims 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tanase. The above referred to embodiment of Tanase discloses the present invention except for the auxiliary chamber comprising an inner chamber. However, Fig. 13 of Tanase discloses the main chamber of the airbag as having an inner chamber 18a, said inner chamber having a valve 21. Therefore, it would have been obvious to modify the side airbag of the above mentioned embodiment of Tanase with the teaching of including an inner chamber in an auxiliary chamber to give the auxiliary chamber a higher thickness and thus greater strength during a collision.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 9-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
